The Modern Way (By McLandburgh Wilson.)

I freighted them with hopes and fears
 To sail across the foam,
 And vainly have I waited since
 To see my ships come home.
 But, ah, my ships were far too light
 For crests they had to brave,
 Too deep the seas of destiny,
 Too towering the wave.
 And, oh, my ships drew too much draught,
 For waters that were charmed,
 Too shallow was the stream of chance
 To bear them on unharmed.
 When seas are filled and streams are dug
 My ships may safely float,
 So I must wait till powers make
 The tides to fit the boat.

WEDDINGS.

beauties from Mrs. William Glasgow; the third golden imperial chrysanthemums, from Mrs. J. G. McNary. Following this president's address, Mrs. J. J. Kaster sang delightfully "An Open Secret," by Woodman. Mrs. W. Mills, first president of the club, then told about the splendid gift of Miss Thelma L. Westcott to the club—namely, one-half of her homestead property on California street, between Kansas and Campbell, which Miss Westcott bestowed upon the club Monday, October 3.

This joyful news was most enthusiastically received by the members. Excellent talks were given on the subject by past presidents, Mesdames J. A. Rawlings, M. P. Schuster, J. E. Townsend and Helen Hale.

The songs, "My Ships" and "My Rosary," by Miss Carolyn Payne, were sung in a rich, sympathetic voice that completely won her hearers. A reading, "Sally Ann's Experience," by Mrs. F. S. Hollington, was so masterfully told that all present felt it to be a personal experience. Mrs. J. J. Kaster closed the program with the "Spring Song."

Mrs. Kaster's fine soprano voice is of purest quality, and her songs were given as only an artist can. A very delightful social hour followed, for which credit is due Mrs. J. W. Lorentzen.

The club room was decorated with potted plants and old English ivy, the work of Mrs. L. L. Mundy. The courtesies of the club were extended Mesdames W. H. Burges, H. F. Wright, J. B. Thew, R. Y. Pearson, E. E. Pierrot, Lenette B. Harless and Miss Birdie Kerr.

The next meeting of the club will be that of the music department Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. R. Brown, 411 West Rio Grande street. Each member of the club may bring a guest by paying the fee charged last year. A musical feast is in store for all who attend.

The affair was in the nature of a surprise shower to Mr. and Mrs. Gilchrist, who were recently married, and have just gone to keeping house. The shower, which contained every conceivable thing for use in the new kitchen, was presented to the young couple in a big hamper, and the "surprise" was complete.

Delightful refreshments were served and the hospitality of the hostess was thoroughly enjoyed by the guests, who were: Misses Christa Hogarth, Mazie Cole, Lillie Cole, Louise Schurn, Gertrude Ellis, Marguerite Darbyshire, Essie Darbyshire, Kate Adams, Bessie Courtney, Holloway, Louise Deltrich, Gertrude Yale, Rebecca Mack, Adele Latelle, Edna Sooton; Mr. and Mrs. C. On Thursday evening at 6 o'clock, at the home of her mother, Mrs. Oliver Carr, on Arizona street, Miss Jessie Mitchell was married to W. D. Connell, Justice E. B. McClintock officiating.

The groom is a well known cattleman, having resided here for the past two years, and the bride has long been a resident of El Paso.

A simple but attractive wedding was solemnized last evening at 7 o'clock, at St. Clement's Episcopal church, when Miss Carrie Whitehill and Ignatius Stauber were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William McCracken, and only a few intimate friends were in attendance.

The bride who is a most charming young woman, was handsomely gowned in a traveling suit of gray cloth, and wore a picture hat in harmonizing tones.

Miss Whitehill is a cousin of Charles B. Stevens, of this city, and is the daughter of the late Harvey Whitehill, who was prominent in the political life of New Mexico, and a well known citizen of Silver City.

The groom is superintendent of the Savanna Copper company, at Leopold, N. M., and also has other large mining interests. The young couple will spend a short time in El Paso before going to their future home in Leopold, N. M.

One of the most charming affairs of the fall season was the luncheon given today at 1 o'clock by Mrs. Frank Earle, complimentary to her sister, Miss Jessie Marr, whose marriage to Dr. L. G. Witherspoon will take place November 1.

The table presented a most alluring picture with its attractive bridal decorations of white and green. A basket filled with bride's roses and ferns, and tied with tulle, formed the central decorative feature, while small wax scattered over the table in artistic profusion.

From the chandelier, which was gracefully draped with white tulle and ribbon, hung numbers of tiny bulb lights gleaming through the petals of white lilies.

Bride's roses with name cards attached marked the places, and boxes of bonbons were given as favors. Those who enjoyed the luncheon were: Mesdames W. R. Brown, R. C. Semple, Lamar Davis, Hugh White, George LeBaron, Charles Pomeroy, Ralph W. Loomis, Julius Krakauer, Frank Coles, Otto Coles, C. J. Maple, James L. Marr; Misses Nannie Lackland, Ethel Walz, Bessie Donohue, Alma Jones.

Piper, 1906 North Oregon street, when Miss Marguerite Carrera, of this city, and Ambrosio Gonzales, representative for the Cia. Industrial de Parras S. A., of Coahuila, Mexico, were married, Justice McClintock officiating.

The bride was dressed tastefully in white, and was attended by her sister, Miss Regina Carrera. E. G. Piper, brother-in-law of the bride, acted as best man. After the ceremony a luncheon was served. Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Piper tendered the bridal party an auto ride down the valley, returning in the evening to the home of Mrs. Piper, where a wedding dinner was served.

A profusion of white carnations and ferns formed the decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Gonzales left Thursday evening over the Mexican National for a tour of Mexico. Miss Regina Carrera accompanied the party. Later they will take a trip to Spain to pay a visit to the groom's parents.
